

POLICYMAKERS, ADVOCATES AND HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS

The UC Davis Center for Regional Change has a mission to support the building of healthy, equitable, prosperous, and sustainable regions. The CRC has successfully partnered with grassroots groups and community stakeholders to create tools and conduct research that promotes comprehensive community health, social equity, and environmental sustainability. The CRC can serve as a resource for community-based organizations interested in participatory action research.

SERVICES

- Serve as a resource and partner for grass roots and community-based organizations
- Provide data and mapping services on demographic, health, economic, and environmental metrics
- Serve as a partner in community development initiatives
- Perform high-quality, collaborative research
